Independent Auditor's Report

To the Member of
Jane Street Options, LLC

We have audited the accompanying statement of financial condition of Jane Street Options, LLC (the "Company") (a wholly owned subsidiary of JSOH, LLC) as of December 31, 2007. The financial statement is the responsibility of the Company's management. Our responsibility is to express an opinion on the financial statement based on our audit.

We conducted our audit in accordance with auditing standards generally accepted in the United States of America. Those standards require that we plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the statement of financial condition is free of material misstatement. An audit includes examining, on a test basis, evidence supporting the amounts and disclosures in the financial statement. An audit also includes assessing the accounting principles used and significant estimates made by management, as well as evaluating the overall financial statement presentation. We believe that our audit of the statement of financial condition provides a reasonable basis for our opinion.

In our opinion, the statement of financial condition referred to above presents fairly, in all material respects, the financial position of Jane Street Options, LLC as of December 31, 2007, in conformity with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America.

JANE STREET OPTIONS, LLC

NOTES TO STATEMENT OF FINANCIAL CONDITION December 31, 2007

1. ORGANIZATION: Jane Street Options, LLC (the "Company"), a Delaware limited liability company, is a subsidiary of JSOH, LLC (the "Parent"). JSOH, LLC is a subsidiary of Jane Street Holding, LLC (the "Ultimate Parent"). The Company is a registered broker-dealer under the Securities Exchange Act of 1934. The Company is a member of the Chicago Board of Options Exchange (the "CBOE").

2. SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES: These financial statements have been prepared in conformity with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America which require the use of estimates by management.

Securities owned and securities sold, not yet purchased, are valued at their last sale on their primary exchange. All resulting unrealized gains and losses are reflected in Member's equity.

In the course of its normal trading activities, the Company effects transactions in securities sold, not yet purchased, which involve, to indeterminable degrees, market risk in excess of that presented in the statement of financial condition.

No provision is made in the accompanying financial statements for federal or state income taxes since such liabilities are the responsibility of the Ultimate Parent.

In September 2006, the Financial Accounting Standards Board ("FASB") issued Statement of Financial Accounting Standards No. 157, Fair Value Measurements ("SFAS No. 157"). SFAS No. 157 defines fair value, establishes a framework for measuring fair value, and expands disclosures about fair value measurement. SFAS No. 157 also emphasizes that fair value is a market-based measurement, not an entity-specific measurement, and sets out a fair value hierarchy with the highest priority being quoted prices in active markets. Under SFAS No. 157, fair value measurements are disclosed by level within that hierarchy. This Statement is effective for fiscal years beginning after November 15, 2008. The Company has not assessed the potential effect of SFAS No. 157 on its financial position, results of operations and cash flows.

In June 2006, the FASB issued FASB Interpretation No. 48 ("FIN 48"), Accounting for Uncertainty in Income Taxes - an interpretation of FASB Statement No. 109. FIN 48 clarifies the accounting for uncertainty in income taxes recognized in an enterprise's financial statements in accordance with FASB Statement No. 109, Accounting for Income Taxes. FIN 48 prescribes a comprehensive model for recognizing, measuring, presenting and disclosing in the financial statements tax positions taken or expected to be taken on a tax return. If there are changes in net assets as a result of application of FIN 48 these will be accounted for as an adjustment to the opening balance of retained earnings. Additional disclosures about the amounts of such liabilities will be required also. In February 2008, the FASB delayed the effective date of FIN 48 for certain nonpublic enterprises to annual financial statements for fiscal years beginning after December 15, 2007. The Company will be required to adopt FIN 48 in its 2008 annual financial statements. Management has not assessed the impact of FIN 48 on its financial position and results of operations and has not determined if the adoption of FIN 48 will have a material effect on its financial statements.

JANE STREET OPTIONS, LLC

3. DUE TO/FROM BROKERS: The clearing and depository operations for the Company's transactions are provided primarily by two brokers. For financial reporting purposes, amounts due to/from brokers have been offset against amounts due to/from the same brokers for securities and options sold, not yet purchased, and other items.
- At December 31, 2007, substantially all of the securities and options owned and securities and options sold, not yet purchased, and the amounts due from and due to broker reflected in the statement of financial condition are security and option positions with and amounts due from and to these brokers. The securities serve as collateral for the amount due to the broker. Subject to the clearing agreements between the Company and the clearing brokers, the clearing brokers have the right to sell or repledge this collateral. Additionally, investments in securities and options and securities and options sold, not yet purchased are subject to margin requirements.
4. RELATED PARTY TRANSACTIONS: The Ultimate Parent and certain of the Company's affiliates provide services and office space, and pay certain operating expenses on behalf of the Company. At December 31, 2007, the amount due to the Ultimate Parent and affiliates amounted to $783,469.
5. REGULATORY REQUIREMENTS: The Company is a market-maker operating under the exemptive provisions of rule 15c3-1(b) of the securities and Exchange Commission, which exempts the Company from the Uniform Net Capital Rule. As a member of the CBOE, the Company is required to meet certain liquidity requirements based on the market prices and number of securities in which the Company acts as a market-maker. At December 31, 2007, the Company had Member's equity of $8,025,122 which exceeded the liquidity requirement by $7,720,622.
6. DERIVATIVE FINANCIAL INSTRUMENTS: The Company's activities include the purchase and sale of derivative financial instruments in the form of equity options. These securities are used for trading purposes and for managing risks associated with the portfolio of securities. Management believes that any risk is significantly minimized through its hedging strategies. All positions are reported in the accompanying statement of financial condition at market value.

Independent Auditor's Report on Internal Control

To the Member of Jane Street Options, LLC

In planning and performing our audit of the financial statements of Jane Street Options, LLC (the "Company") as of and for the year ended December 31, 2007, in accordance with auditing standards generally accepted in the United States of America, we considered the Company's internal control over financial reporting (internal control) as a basis for designing our auditing procedures for the purpose of expressing our opinion on the financial statements, but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of the Company's internal control. Accordingly, we do not express an opinion on the effectiveness of the Company's internal control.

Also, as required by rule 17a-5(g)(1) of the Securities and Exchange Commission (the "SEC"), we have made a study of the practices and procedures followed by the Company, including consideration of control activities for safeguarding securities. This study included tests of compliance with such practices and procedures that we considered relevant to the objectives stated in rule 17a-5(g) in making the periodic computations of aggregate indebtedness and net capital under rule 17a-3(a)(11) and for determining compliance with the exemptive provisions of rule 15c3-3. Because the Company does not carry securities accounts for customers or perform custodial functions relating to customer securities, we did not review the practices and procedures followed by the Company in any of the following:

- (1) Making quarterly securities examinations, counts, verifications, and comparisons and recordation of differences required by rule 17a-13; and
- (2) Complying with the requirements for prompt payment for securities under Section 8 of Federal Reserve Regulation T of the Board of Governors of the Federal Reserve System.

The management of the Company is responsible for establishing and maintaining internal control and the practices and procedures referred to in the preceding paragraph. In fulfilling this responsibility, estimates and judgments by management are required to assess the expected benefits and related costs of controls and of the practices and procedures referred to in the preceding paragraph and to assess whether those practices and procedures can be expected to achieve the SEC's above-mentioned objectives. Two of the objectives of internal control and the practices and procedures are to provide management with reasonable but not absolute assurance that assets for which the Company has responsibility are safeguarded against loss from unauthorized use or disposition and that transactions are executed in accordance with management's authorization and recorded properly to permit the preparation of financial statements in conformity with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America. Rule 17a-5(g) lists additional objectives of the practices and procedures listed in the preceding paragraph.

Because of inherent limitations in internal control and the practices and procedures referred to above, error or fraud may occur and not be detected. Also, projection of any evaluation of them to future periods is subject to the risk that they may become inadequate because of changes in conditions or that the effectiveness of their design and operation may deteriorate.

A control deficiency exists when the design or operation of a control does not allow management or employees, in the normal course of performing their assigned functions, to prevent or detect misstatements on a timely basis. A significant deficiency is a control deficiency, or a combination of control deficiencies, that adversely affects the entity's ability to initiate, authorize, record, process, or report financial data reliably in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America such that there is more than a remote likelihood that a misstatement of the entity's financial statements that is more than inconsequential will not be prevented or detected by the entity's internal control.

A material weakness is a significant deficiency, or combination of significant deficiencies, that results in more than a remote likelihood that a material misstatement of the financial statements will not be prevented or detected by the entity's internal control.

Our consideration of internal control was for the limited purpose described in the first and second paragraphs and would not necessarily identify all deficiencies in internal control that might be material weaknesses. We did not identify any deficiencies in internal control and control activities for safeguarding securities that we consider to be material weaknesses, as defined above.

We understand that practices and procedures that accomplish the objectives referred to in the second paragraph of this report are considered by the SEC to be adequate for its purposes in accordance with the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 and related regulations, and that practices and procedures that do not accomplish such objectives in all material respects indicate a material inadequacy for such purposes. Based on this understanding and on our study, we believe that the Company's practices and procedures, as described in the second paragraph of this report, were adequate at December 31, 2007, to meet the SEC's objectives.

This report is intended solely for the information and use of the Member, management, the SEC, the Chicago Board Options Exchange and other regulatory agencies that rely on rule 17a-5(g) under the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 in their regulation of registered broker-dealers, and is not intended to be and should not be used by anyone other than these specified parties.
